

Cute eh? The living room with a fireplace is to the right of the front door; my office is on the left. It's got central air, modern appliances, lots of light and great vibes!

Snow Hill, founded in 1642, is a quaint town nestled on the Pocomoke River. Follow this link for more info...

Our house was built around 1865 and has been lovingly maintained by a family who was (and still is) very civically active. It's two blocks from the center of town on a street where all the neighbors have already welcomed us to the neighborhood.

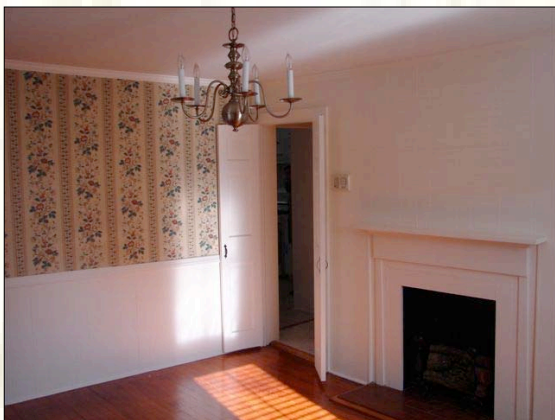

Yep, that's a huge garden room waiting patiently to host my HeartArt classes! The kitchen/laundry room is in the center of the house (peeking out behind the garden room).

Here is the back garden, just enough to putter in. I even have an "official" potting shed! It's winter here, but I can hear all the beautiful flowers resting up for a brilliant display come spring!

On the second floor, the guest room is on the right; our b-room is above the garden room. There is also another dining room off the kitchen with a separate wet bar. We knew it would make a great party house when we spotted that!

This is my office. Can't wait to place a cozy chair next to the fireplace!
There is a butler's pantry just beyond the doors for my art and mailing supplies. There is built in storage galore throughout the whole house. Seems as if the whole house was custom made just for us.

Here I am designing a comfortable guest room for your visit. The room in the background (with 2 walk-in closets!) is where Mike & I are bedding down. There's another b-room (a studio for Mike) and a bath on this floor. A second full bath is downstairs.
